Catholic chief 'put church ahead of sex abuse victims'

THE most senior Catholic leader in England and Wales has been criticised in a damning inquiry for seemingly prioritising the church over victims of sexual abuse by priests.

Cardinal Vincent Nichols (above), the Archbishop of Westminster Diocese, "demonstrated a lack of understanding" of the impact of abuse on some victims and "seemingly put the reputation of the church first", the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse found.

The IICSA report into allegations involving the Roman Catholic Church found evidence of "repeated failures", including a lack of adequate safeguarding and missing opportunities to stop abusers within the church.

It also said progress following reviews into the Catholic Church's handling of allegations, in 2001 and 2007, had been "slow".

'Lockdown' is word of year

"LOCKDOWN" has been declared the word of the year for 2020 by Collins Dictionary, after a sharp rise in its usage during the pandemic.

It "encapsulates the shared experience of billions of people", Collins said.

Lexicographers registered more than 250,000 usages of "lockdown" during 2020. Other pandemic-linked terms on the 10-strong list include "furlough", "key worker", "self-isolate", "social distancing" and "coronavirus".

TRAVEL giant TUI has cancelled all Lapland holidays for customers from the UK and Ireland this winter – effectively cutting off Santa!

The tour operator made the decision as it could not guarantee it would "keep the magic alive" for families visiting the Finnish region due to the pandemic.

It said in a statement: "TUI UK and Ireland regrets to confirm it has made the incredibly difficult decision to suspend holidays to Lapland this winter, due to the continued uncertainty surrounding travel and the unprecedented impact of COVID-19."

"Visiting Santa is a truly magical, once-in-a-lifetime family experience, and TUI has worked extremely hard in recent months to try to ensure it can keep the magic alive and guarantee children and their parents a safe and enjoyable holiday."

"However, with the rapidly evolving travel environment and a COVID test

SANTA IN QUARANTINE

Travel giant axe trips to see Father Christmas

soon to be mandatory for Finland, TUI UK and Ireland has decided that, on this occasion, it would not be able to deliver on this promise and wanted to remove uncertainty for families."

TUI added that it will resume Lapland trips in winter 2021.

Customers with cancelled holidays are being offered the opportunity to rebook for next year, a refund credit note with a "generous incentive", or a cash refund.

Lapland has introduced a series of safety measures in response to the pandemic – including plastic screens to separate Santa from children and elves wearing face masks.

Ex-pupils claim racism culture at Blair's old school

FORMER pupils at Tony Blair's old school have claimed there was a culture of racism there.

One ex-pupil said she was left feeling "dehumanised" by her treatment at megashop Fettes College.

Others claimed there was also discrimination from some teachers at the Edinburgh school, where fees for boarders are £36,400 a year.

Fettes College said racism in any form by staff or students is not tolerated.

Saffy Mirghani, who was at the school from 2011-13, said a "slave auction" was organised each year by pupils with the knowledge of teachers.

At the auctions, reportedly stopped in 2013, prefects would volunteer themselves as "slaves" and could be bought for charity by other pupils who could "control them".

Ms Mirghani, 25, said: "The slave auction just allowed the most disturbing and nefarious qualities and the most troubled students to percolate to the surface."

"It was really quite frightening."

Wales scraps 2021 exams

END of year exams in Wales will be scrapped in 2021, Welsh education minister Kirsty Williams has announced.

GCSE, AS-level and A-level exams will be replaced by coursework and assessments amid ongoing disruption to schools caused by the coronavirus.

Ms Williams said the ongoing pandemic made it "impossible to guarantee a level playing field for exams to take place" and the decision "removes pressures from learners".

"The well-being of learners and ensuring fairness across the system is central in our decision-making process," Ms Williams said.

"We remain optimistic that the public health situation will improve."

HANCOCK: WE ARE READY TO ROLL OUT VACCINE

(So, how long before he buggers THIS up?)

DOING A GOOD JOB? Hancock is optimistic

THE good news is they have found a vaccine for COVID...

The bad news is that serial bungler Matt Hancock will be in charge of rolling it out.

The NHS is ready to start providing the new coronavirus vaccine "as fast as safely possible", the health secretary said yesterday.

But as the beleaguered minister has already presided over PPE bumbles and the test and trace fiasco, cynics wonder what spanner Hancock could throw into the works!

Asked whether it could be available by Christmas, he said that was "absolutely a possibility" – but he expected the mass roll-out "in the first part of next year".

He also said vaccination

By SIMON DEAN

clinics would be open seven days a week and he was giving GPs an extra £150million.

But he urged people to be patient.

"We just don't know" how many people will need to be vaccinated before life can return to normal, Mr Hancock added.

He also said new rapid tests – which give results in less than an hour – will be made available across 66 local areas, after they were used in a mass testing trial in Liverpool.

It comes as figures showed the number of people dying continued to be above normal levels for this time of year, with 1,597 deaths mentioning COVID on the death certificate in the last week of October – up from 1,126 the week before.

On Monday, early results from the world's first effective coronavirus vaccine showed it could prevent more than 90% of people from getting COVID.

The vaccine – called an RNA vaccine – has been developed by pharmaceutical companies Pfizer and BioNTech and is one of 11 vaccines that are currently in the final stages of testing.

The companies now plan to apply for emergency approval to use the vaccine by the end of November – and a limited number of people may get the vaccine this year.

The UK has already ordered 40 million doses – enough to vaccinate up to 20 million people, as each person will need two doses for it to work effectively.

But the prime minister has sounded a note of caution.

Boris Johnson warned people not to "rely on this news as a solution" as it is still "very, very early days".

TODAY'S WEATHER

SOUTHERN, central and eastern areas hang on to bright, mild but breezy conditions. Heavy rain and strong winds in the northwest later hit western and northern areas.

Temperatures of 13C in London, 13C in Cardiff, 12C in Manchester, 12C in Belfast and 10C in Edinburgh.

OUTLOOK: Unsettled.

RECORD SPIKE IN JOB LOSSES

MORE people were made redundant between July and September than at any point on record, according to new official statistics.

Around 314,000 redundancies were registered during the three months, up by 181,000 from the quarter before, according to the Office for National Statistics (ONS).

The data suggests that unemployment in the UK reached 4.8% in the three months to September, with 1.62 million people being unemployed.

It is an increase of 0.7 percentage points on the quarter before.

Around 33,000 people were dropped from payrolls last month, adding to the 782,000 reduction in payrolls since March.

ONS deputy national statistician for economic statistics Jonathan Athow said: "The latest monthly tax numbers show over three quarters of a million fewer employees on the payroll in October than in March."

"Unemployment grew sharply in the three months to September, with many of those who lost their jobs earlier in the pandemic beginning to look for work again."

"The number of redundancies has also reached a record high."

TELLY STUNNA MICHELLE'S COVID PERV HELL

SEX TROLLS VICTIM:
Self-isolating Keegan

TheBaikalnerpa, Middle of the Lake, Russia, 11

She is welcome to self-isolate on my face.

Benny hill 69 (London, United Kingdom, 3 hours ago)

Gorgeous sexy woman would love to isolate with her nom nom nom

MICHELLE Keegan has been forced to self-isolate for two weeks after coming into contact with – but not contracting – deadly Chinese death plague COVID-19.

The brave actress, 33, was exposed to the virus during a photo shoot in Manchester last month.

This meant she was unable to return to the set of her Sky TV series Brassic, which is in the midst of shooting its third season.

But while Michelle is locked away from contact with the wider world, vile SEXTROLLS began posting salacious comments on the website of the once-respectable Daily Mail.

Moist

One user, going under the cowardly pseudonym TheBaikalnerpa, drooled: "She is welcome to self-isolate on my face."

The implication of this is that TheBaikalnerpa would like the lovely Michelle to plant her moist mingeparts on his face for a FORTNIGHT.

Another user – going under the pen name Benny hill 69 – made the only slightly-less crude statement: "Gorgeous sexy woman would love to isolate with her nom nom nom."

A source said: "Michelle had to take time away from the Brassic set once again and has been laying low in Essex with her husband Mark Wright.

"She only missed one day of filming. But she needed to isolate after she came into contact with someone in Manchester who had it.

"It all happened very quickly and Michelle did not return to the Brassic set before isolating.

"So it didn't affect filming too much. "She will go back to filming at the end of this week."

The source added: "With Michelle being kept away from the job she loves, the last thing she wants is perverts fantasising about licking out her neat, fragrant private holes."

Michelle and husband Mark, 33, have used their time at home to put up their Christmas decorations – a full SEVEN WEEKS before we celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ.

NUTS GOOD FOR YOUR... NUTS

MEN who add a handful of nuts to their diet can increase their SPUNK quality and fertility, a new study from the Human Nutrition Unit of the Universitat Rovira i Virgili in Tarragona, Spain, shows.

The researchers compared men who were fed a mixture of tree nuts – almonds, hazelnuts and walnuts – over 14 weeks as a supplement to their standard Western diet with those who weren't.

The inclusion of this nut mix for 14 weeks significantly improved their sperm count.

BBC designer 'gobsmacked' over Di ruling

THE graphic designer who created documents for Martin Bashir has called for the former Panorama reporter to give "answers" about his famous interview with Princess Diana.

The BBC has said Mr Bashir, now the BBC's religion editor, is seriously ill with COVID-related issues.

The allegations centre on claims by Diana's brother, Earl Spencer, who said he was shown "false bank statements" by Mr Bashir which were used to help gain access to Diana for an interview.

Former BBC boss Lord Hall led an internal inquiry in 1996 into whether or not Diana was misled. But the BBC's board of governors was later told there had been "steps to ensure that the graphic designer will not work for the BBC again".

Graphic designer Matt Wiessler said he was "gobsmacked" to discover that "a board of governors welcomed – there to look into what Martin had done" – had made him "the scapegoat".

OUR GIRLS ARE ROCKING!

THERE'S lovely now isn't it?

Regulars at the Owain Glyndwr pub in Cardiff gave our babes a really special Valleys welcome when they popped in for a famous Sunday Sport visit way back in 2005.

Kickabout

The place was packed – which is something we probably won't see again in a watering hole for some time to come – as boozers listened to a band and took part in an indoor footie game.

Sport girls Sally and Leah took their tops off to pull pints – and had a kickabout with punters.

The babes even had a strum with members of the tribute band Ten Lizzy – Ian Davies, Guy Davies, Phil Gibbons and Kev Davies.

And they tempted bouncer Nathan Powditch from his post at the door to pose with them.

Leah said: "It was a great night. They made us feel so welcome. The band was good too."

Ripper, 74, at death's door with COVID

THE Yorkshire Ripper has been treated for coronavirus in hospital amid claims he refused treatment and was at risk of DEATH.

Peter Sutcliffe, 74 (above), was being treated at the University Hospital of North Durham, near the maximum security Frankland jail where he's an inmate.

Two weeks ago, the serial killer was treated at the same hospital after suffering a suspected heart attack.

He went back to prison but has since returned after developing coronavirus.

According to reports, he has turned down treatment for the virus and was at risk of dying – due to his age and health problems.

Sutcliffe has a range of conditions including heart trouble, diabetes and obesity.

He is serving a whole life term for murdering 13 women across Yorkshire and the North West between 1975 and 1980.

A Ministry of Justice spokesman said: "We don't comment on individual prisoners."

Rail bosses set to pull trains

TRAIN bosses are set to cut timetables in the New Year amid fears more than a fifth of commuters will not return to regularly using the railway – and continue working from home – once the COVID pandemic is over.

Operators desperate to cut costs have reportedly drawn up proposals for the Government to reduce the number of services and make the railway more "efficient" and "financially sustainable".

It comes after the Department for Transport – led by Grant Shapps – demanded more widespread cuts because of the Treasury's concerns over the cost of running empty trains.

A Department for Transport spokesman said: "It is critical that we ensure the railway can respond quickly to changes in passenger demand while supporting economic recovery."

LESBIAN NAVY MEDIC GIRL PESTERED STRAIGHT BOSS, COURT MARTIAL HEARS

'YOU'VE GOT A BIG ENOUGH SEX DRIVE FOR A THREESOME'

ON TRIAL: Cdr Sally-Anne Bagnall

A FEMALE Royal Navy Commander bombarded a married senior officer with lesbo love messages, praising her "heart and sex drive" as being "big enough" for a three-way relationship, a court martial heard.

Commander Sally-Anne Bagnall is accused of harassing her boss, Surgeon Capt Elizabeth Crowson, by launching a relentless "romantic pursuit" despite being repeatedly rejected.

Feelings

Cdr Bagnall insisted the married Captain was "in denial about her sexuality" and was "suppressing her true feelings about her" as she endeavoured to start a relationship with her.

She "refused" to accept that Capt Crowson was not gay and sent her texts about her "sex drive" as well as one that said: "Your heart is big enough for two adults in this threesome," and "I want to commit to you".

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Capt Crowson branded 51-year-old Cdr Bagnall "nutty" after she claimed she was secretly using "codes" in work emails to give her "hidden sexual messages".

It was also heard Cdr Bagnall "tricked" an admin worker into giving her Capt Crowson's home address and sent her cards during the alleged harassment in autumn 2018.

Cdr Bagnall is accused of harassing the married mother-of-three while the two medics worked at the Defence Primary Health Care HQ in DMS Whitlington, Staffs.

At Bulford Military Court, Wiltshire, Prosecutor Wing Cdr Michael Saunders said the pair's work relationship became "hostile" so they planned to meet socially to "clear the air".

Wg Cdr Saunders said: "During conversations which were supposed to be to clear the air to improve the working relationship, Bagnall persistently said Capt Crowson was suppressing her true feelings about her and was in denial about her sexuality, despite being married."

The prosecutor also read Cdr Bagnall's messages to the alleged victim.

One said: "I want to commit to you, feel the same way as you. Love and want you to know this now, please don't be silent with me."

Another said: "It's a triangle of love – a three I can accept that, I'm the other. Your heart is big/strong enough for two adults in this threesome, but not in the same bed/place... A hippy, unconventional way."

One said: "Big enough heart and sex drive, I should say."

Giving evidence, Capt Crowson said that Cdr Bagnall confronted her with annotated work emails that she'd sent to others, with her Ccd in, circling grammatical and spelling errors.

Cdr Bagnall insisted Capt Crowson's misspelling of "regional" meant "vaginal", the phrase "get in touch" meant she apparently wanted to touch Cdr Bagnall, and the word "involved" was code for her wanting to be involved with her.

Capt Crowson, giving evidence, said: "I felt scared and frightened. What it showed me was that anything I said could be entirely misconstrued and this left me vulnerable to whatever nutty behaviour might come my way."

Capt Crowson, who had initially met with Cdr Bagnall at a Costa to repair their working relationship, said her junior "got the wrong end of the stick" when she began harassing her.

Conflict

She said: "Conversations about my marriage would then veer towards her assertion that tensions in my marriage were due to me being in internal conflict about my sexuality."

"Initially she was just exploring whether I was having difficulties about my sexuality but as it progressed it became clear she was presenting herself as a potential romantic suitor.

"She thought I was confused and in denial about my sexuality, she thought I was interested in her and she said she was available and willing to engage the relationship."

"She got the wrong end of the stick completely."

"I was always very clear about my sexuality – I've never had any leanings in that direction whatsoever."

"She refused to accept my assertions I was not gay or looking to start a romantic relationship with her, or to accept them no matter how clearly I stated them."

"It caused me a huge amount of distress, I was bewildered and perplexed as to how she had drawn the conclusions that she had."

"The more I rebuffed her, the less she would hear them, and that caused me huge distress."

Cdr Bagnall, now of HMS Nelson in Portsmouth, Hants, denies harassment. The trial continues.

TEEN CALLED JACK DUFF JACKED OFF IN THE BUFF

Court told of naked sex act in garden

GUILTY: But Duff could not explain why he did it

NEIGHBOURS watched in horror as a naked teenager ran out of his house before furiously masturbating in his garden.

Jack Duff pleaded guilty to committing two separate acts of public indecency on Midmill Road, Dundee, where he lives.

Dundee Sheriff Court heard that Duff could not offer an explanation for his behaviour.

The court was told that during the first incident in March 2018, Duff, who was then 18, left his home wearing only a dressing gown before running outside naked.

Prosecutor Christine Allan

said: "The witnesses were in their house and saw the accused fully naked."

"Due to the strange behaviour, it was recorded on their mobile phones."

"The accused was seemingly unaware that anyone was watching."

"He began performing a sex act for a short period of time."

Over a year later, a neighbour observed a fully-clothed Duff sitting in his garden before he began to perform a sex act on himself.

Duff did this while a young female was in an adjacent garden.

"The witness was extremely distressed and went into her home and told other witnesses," Ms Allan said.

"She was upset by this and was almost crying."

Difficulties

"All witnesses went to a side window and observed the accused fully naked in the rear garden performing the act."

"The witness contacted the housing association who, in turn, contacted the police."

Duff, now 20, pleaded guilty to performing a sex act in his garden while naked between March 21 2018 and August 22 2019.

Defence solicitor Ian Houston tendered a letter from Duff's GP highlighting a number of difficulties his client has suffered.

Sheriff Jillian Martin-Brown deferred sentence on Duff until December for reports to be prepared.

Duff has not been placed on the sex offender's register.

'No care in world' for high street plover!

A WOMAN has been caught on camera taking a DUMP in broad daylight in the street outside a busy shopping centre.

A passerby took a photograph which appears to show a female with her pants down, going for a "pee and a poo" just outside Churchill Square in Brighton.

Witness Marc Silver was on his lunch break when he spotted the woman, who he said was defecating with "no care in the world".

He said: "I was just walking from Sainsbury's to get some lunch, as I'm still working and was on my lunch break."

"I couldn't believe my eyes. Right outside Churchill Square – not a care in the world."

"She should have at least jumped in a bush or out of view of the central shopping district."

"It's disgusting." The image appears to show the woman going to the toilet behind a food truck, next to a couple of waste bins.

Brits cope with lockdown – by eating CAKE!

THE owners of Mr Kipling cakes say they expect a bumper sales year as stuck-at-home Brits gorge on treats.

Premier Foods expects its profits to beat market forecasts this year, as large parts of the UK enter a second lockdown.

The company – which makes Mr Kipling, Oxo cubes and Ambrosia custard – expects sales to rise again, after seeing a strong boost earlier in the year.

It said pre-tax profit more than tripled to £50.5million in the six months to the end of September, on revenue of £421.5m, up 15%.

Households tried to increase their repertoire of meals during the lockdown, which attracted millions of new customers to Premier Foods' brands, the manufacturer said.

A court heard that Goh An Soon sneaked in a university laundry EIGHT TIMES over a period of six weeks to snaffle undergrads' skimpy underwear.

He was only caught when he jumped into the cab of a truck used to collect linen and tried to drive it away.

He was stopped by university security guards and CCTV footage tied him to earlier trespassing incidents.

The lorry contained around 3,000 items of ladies' underwear.

Goh, 20, is facing jail after pleading guilty to stealing the lingerie and trespassing.

Urge

Prosecutor Tan Pei Wei said Goh would go to the dormitory at King Edward VII Hall at the National University of Singapore whenever he felt an urge to look at the undergarments.

He would check washing machines at the dormitory's laundry areas, or among the clothes hung to dry in the common corridor for lingerie left unattended.

The prosecutor added:

However, due to the steepness of the mountain, they weren't able to safely reach him, authorities said.

Later that day, a Blackhawk rescue helicopter was sent from Naval Station Fallon to hoist up his body from the bottom of the ravine.

It's believed Lugo was visiting the area from his home in Florida.

Woman arrested again for naked public fingering

A NAKED woman was arrested after she was caught FINGERING herself outside a cafe.

Vanessa Lee Jones, 38 (above), was nabbed after a witness reported seeing her in the buff and masturbating near a skip outside a Popeyes fast food place in St Petersburg, Florida.

Police officers at the scene also "witnessed her masturbating in front of the dumpster completely naked".

CCTV cameras at the location recorded Jones in the act, who was held for exposure of sexual organs.

The arrest report says there was no evidence Jones was under the influence of drugs or alcohol, and it didn't seem like she was suffering from any mental health issues.

In September, Jones was arrested for allegedly exposing herself and wanking in front of a 7-Eleven store in the same city.

She remained behind bars until October 28, when she was freed after prosecutors declined to pursue the first case.

Christmas jobs market sees a 30% decrease

THE number of seasonal jobs on offer is down by a THIRD compared with a year ago, research says.

Firms are advertising around 13,600 roles in the run-up to Christmas, says jobs site Adzuna.

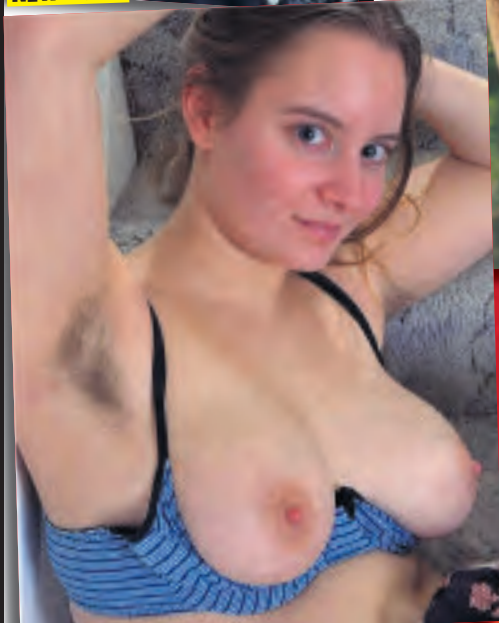

The COVID crisis is changing the type of work on offer, with more cleaning, logistics and delivery jobs available.

Topping the list of companies still looking for seasonal staff are parcel courier company Yodel, Royal Mail and online tutoring platform Tutorful.

With much of this year's Xmas shopping expected to be done online - creating the need for more delivery drivers and warehouse pickers - there are plenty of logistics and warehouse roles on offer, accounting for 40% of the positions, the study found.

IT'S one of the issues that REALLY divides people - armpit hair.

Specifically, armpit hair on ladies.

Model Ashley Graham gave us all a welcome break from the U.S. presidential election last week by posting a pic of herself sitting nude in a bathtub showing off her armpit hair.

Reaction to the 33-year-old's post was mainly positive.

"Love how you're rocking that underarm hair, girl! We're all human, people need to stop expecting us to live up to a standard," one social media user commented on the photos.

Razor

Another added: "Yesssss!!!! Part of the women with long armpit hair crewwww!"

One fan noted "quarantine pits" while another commented "winter pits".

It isn't the first time Graham has given her followers an update on the state of her pit hair. In August, the runway star shared a video of herself on Instagram shaving her armpits with a razor.

But where do YOU stand on the issue? Here are a couple of pages of pics to help you make up your mind...

Probe into naked Sir's online class

A TEACHER is under investigation for allegedly attending a virtual school class while NAKED.

In a screenshot that has been shared by students on social media, the unnamed male tutor stands up during the online session and is seen to be naked.

Christopher Hardiman, principal of Southwind High School in Memphis, Tennessee, said: "One of our teachers was seen on camera while dressed inappropriately".

The principal added that the teacher was referred to the Shelby Co Schools Office of Professional Standards for a full investigation.

Parent Eric Johnson said that if the man involved was his child's teacher, he'd want the teacher immediately removed.

He said: "You're naked. That's sad. You are supposed to be here to help the children, not do things of that nature. Parents should be raising hell if they are concerned about their children."

Nude row woman thrown off flight

A FLIGHT had to make an emergency landing after a HALF-NAKED woman went berserk in mid-air.

Nicole McClinton, 25, of Universal City, Texas, caused the disturbance on a flight to Houston when she got into a row with another passenger.

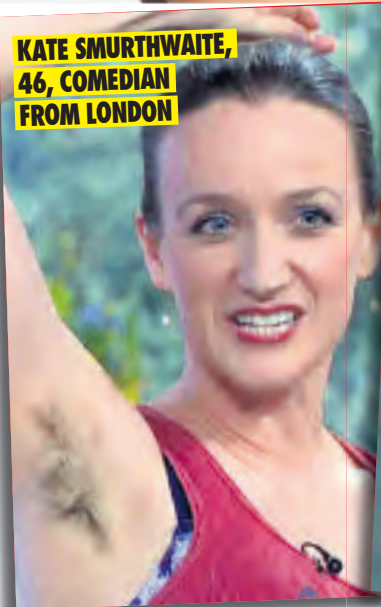

A flight attendant and another passenger detained her until the plane could land in Mobile, Alabama, before continuing to Houston.

Police said McClinton, once on the ground, got off the plane wearing just a T-shirt and underwear.

She was intoxicated, yelling obscenities and refused to obey their commands.

McClinton now faces charges of disorderly conduct and public intoxication.

NOW we know what busty Bexie Williams is up to in Lockdown 2 – watching fanny-slurping LESBIAN PORN action!

The 32DD-24-34 stunna, from Hove in East Sussex, said: "I love watching girl-on-girl action in adult films and want to re-enact the kinky scenes myself."

"I love watching girls slipping their tongues into each other's hot, wet pussies, and even fingering each other's tight little bumholes. I enjoy a good lesbian rimming scene, too."

The 26-year-old scorcher also said: "I sometimes watch them when I'm alone and finger myself to orgasm as I imagine I'm part of the scene – being licked and pleased, too."

"But even better than that is to watch them while a guy is sat with me. I'd like to wank him off as he enjoys the action on screen and then tickle his balls as he's about to come – then lick up his spunk when he's jizzed all over the place."

PORN STARS FACE JAIL FOR BUM SEX IN NATIONAL PARK

A GROUP of adult film actors are facing jail for going naked and wild in a national park.

Alex Marin, Mia Marin, Giselle Montes and Yamileth Ramirez filmed a four-way as their boat travelled the Grijalva River at Sumidero Canyon in Chiapas, Mexico.

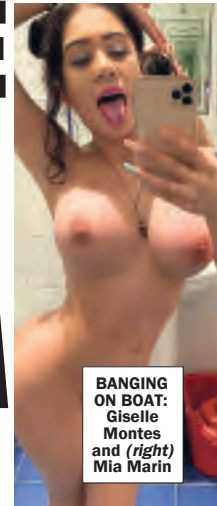

The quartet filmed oral, full sex, anal and kinky double penetration on their vessel.

But now the Mexican National Commission of Protected Natural Areas wants the porn stars charged with indecency in a protected site – declaring the cum-splattered bum-banging harmed a national icon.

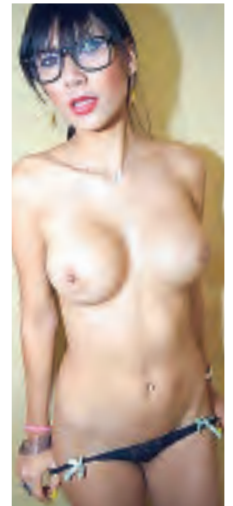

Damage

"Films of sexual content were made that harm the image of the icon representing the pride of Chiapas and goes beyond the limits of morals and good customs," the agency said in a statement.

"These images damage the connection that Chiapas has to our emblem, social and cultural, since the imposing Canyon is located in the heart of Chiapas as the symbol of our battles and the roots of our peoples."

The Sumidero Canyon is home to endangered species like ocelots, river crocodiles and spider monkeys.

The four adult actors could even be JAILED if found guilty.

In a now-deleted tweet, Marin bragged about the group's trip, saying: "What's up, here we are; We are going to go to the Canyon to take some super hot photos, which no one has ever taken, it is the first time that models and actresses have taken photos in the Grand Canyon of the Sumidero."

But not everyone was against the group.

Manuel Gutiérrez, president of the Central Chiapas Hotel and Motel Association, said he hoped the video would help supercharge the area's flailing tourism industry.

"I see it as a promotion to the destination," Gutiérrez said.

"They (the actors) are coming because it is a safe place and they chose this location due to its nature."

Affair priest shot by lover's hubby

A RANDY priest was shot by his lover's jealous husband, say prosecutors.

Nikolaos Kakavelakis, 52, was shot twice in the chest at point-blank range as he locked up his Greek Orthodox church in Lyon, France – sparking fears it was part of escalating terrorism in the country.

But the father-of-two came out of a coma – and told cops he was attacked because of an illicit affair.

A 40-year-old man was arrested and confessed to the shooting.

The suspect, only identified as Giorgi P, "turns out to be the husband of a woman who was having an affair with the victim", prosecutors said in a statement about his 35-year-old Russian wife, named as Lela K.

SEX TOY STORE WEIRDO SHOVED DILDO UP BUM

A PERV walked into an adult novelty store, exposed himself and BUMMED HIMSELF with a dildo that was on display.

Gilbert Alex Cordero, 23, is being tried on a charge of outraging public decency.

Detective Stacy Bowien said officers obtained surveillance footage from the store in Oklahoma City that showed Cordero (below) walk up to a shelf, lick his fingers on one hand and use that hand to expose himself.

He then grabbed a dildo from a shelf and shoved it up his arse.

Cordero then placed the merchandise back on the shelf he got it from and walked away, the affidavit states.

A store employee who sounded the alarm after witnessing the incident told Detective Bowien that she recognised Cordero as someone who had previously submitted a job application at the store.

'I PRAYED TO THE GOD OF BOOBIES...'

(And it looks like your prayers were answered, Ulrika!)

By JAYNE FERGUSON news@sundaysport.co.uk

ULRIKA Jonsson has told how she "prayed" for big boobs when she was a flat-chested adolescent.

And if these candid holiday snaps are anything to go by, her prayers were answered!

The former TV weathergirl, 53, says having small breasts in her early teens caused her serious anxiety. She said: "I may not have very much in common with Sixties model Twiggy. But getting teased for being flat-chested at school is something significant we shared."

"Not the best look for me, I have to admit – buck teeth, bee stings for breasts and pins that couldn't stop a pig in a passage."

"I longed, prayed (seriously to the God of boobies in all earnestness) and pleaded for a decent pair of knockers."

She added that "over the years things changed for me", saying: "I can remember waking up one morning with a decent set of boobs."

Bazookas

"Not only had my prayers been answered, but as I looked down on my two bazookas, I reasoned that I may actually have over-prayed."

"Suddenly it became clear I would need to find some kind of hammock to keep these mamas encased."

"I must have been about 16. I was in the autumn of my adolescence and finally my baps had decided to turn up."

Ulrika, formerly a panellist on comedy quiz Shooting Stars, thinks men prefer real breasts to implants.

She said: "Natural, pure, organic, uncultivated breasts seem to be quite acceptable."

COVID-19 kills man who said: Premarital sex causes the virus

A FIRE-and-brimstone pastor who had blamed coronavirus on premarital SEX has died from the Chinese death plague.

Irvin Baxter, 75 (above), was hospitalised last week and died there on Tuesday.

In March he told Yank televangelist Jim Bakker the 15 million unmarried people living together in the US "cannot just ignore their sinful lifestyle".

He claimed "5% of new brides in America now are virgins" and added "God is using this coronavirus as a wake-up call".

Baxter said he'd done some research "on the term fornication" and claimed the number of unmarried couples had increased by 138% in the last 10 years.

He cited passages from the Bible, adding: "If we think we can ignore God and live a sinful lifestyle, well, we cannot do it."

"God may be using this as a wake-up call. This coronavirus may be a privilege... there's a much bigger judgement coming. It's in the Bible."

The United Pentecostal Church minister founded Endtime Ministries in 1991.

Falklands' landmine landmark

ALMOST 40 years after the Falklands War ended, the islands have been cleared of the deadly minefields laid during the conflict.

The legacy of the 1982 war with the occupying Argentine forces had meant large areas of the islands had been off-limits.

A local celebration later this month will see islanders mark the moment with the ceremonial detonation of the final landmine and games of cricket and football on reopened beaches.

Foreign Office minister Wendy Morton said: "This is a huge achievement for the islands and we must pay tribute to the team of deminers who put their lives at risk, removing and destroying landmines to make the Falklands safe."

'FANCY A QUICKIE?'

Survey reveals smooth-talking blokes' fave way to get sex

THE most popular ways to initiate sex have been revealed – and the cheeky question: "Fancy a quickie?" is men's favourite!

The second most popular male approach in the Top 10 is to caress their partner's body shortly after going to bed.

And the third most popular tactic is to schedule sex for later that night with a raunchy text earlier in the day.

The results are revealed in a new survey of 2,000 people, split evenly amongst the sexes, by IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading affairs site.

Women's ways of initiating sex are strikingly different.

The most popular tactic is to give their partner a long lingering kiss and indicate facially at the same time that they want sex.

The second most popular approach is 'Shall we make love?' rather than 'Fancy a quickie?'

In third place is wearing provocative lingerie to indicate that sex is on the cards.

The survey found that sex is still initiated by men two thirds of time – 64% of men said they nearly always make the first move compared to 36% of women.

But female cheats initiate sex first 51% of the time, compared to 49% of men having affairs.

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "Men are much more likely to be up front and verbally ask for sex, whereas women use more subtle methods to indicate they are in the mood."

"Men still take the lead when it comes to sex, but the gap is closing as women become more sexually empowered and open about expressing exactly what they want in the bedroom."

"Women having affairs are slightly more likely than men to initiate sex the first time."

"I think this is because women primarily have affairs because they are highly sexed and want the excitement of sleeping with someone new, whereas lots of men are looking for a more emotional connection as well as sex."

MEN'S TOP 10 WAYS TO INITIATE SEX

- 1 Fancy a quickie?
- 2 Caress partner's body in bed
- 3 Schedule sex with raunchy text earlier
- 4 Romantic night in with a meal and wine
- 5 Whispering 'I want you' in partner's ear
- 6 Run her a bath
- 7 A long lingering kiss
- 8 Strip off in front of partner
- 9 Breakfast in bed
- 10 Playful spanking

WOMEN'S TOP 10 WAYS TO INITIATE SEX

- 1 Long lingering kiss and suggestive smile
- 2 Shall we make love?
- 3 Wearing sexy lingerie
- 4 Sending partner a sexy picture
- 5 Sliding hand down to man's midriff
- 6 Stripping off in front of partner
- 7 Go to bed naked

One murder wasn't enough for him – he soon proved he was...

A SERIOUS DANGER TO ALL WOMEN

DANGEROUS: Anthony Ayres had strangled two of his previous girlfriends before he murdered for the first time

FREED...TO KILL AGAIN

ANTHONY Ayres looked at the jury of six men and six women at Chelmsford Crown Court.

They'd been considering the facts of the case for less than four hours.

Few people in the court had any doubt as to what their verdict would be.

The foreman of the jury, standing as directed by the judge, said one word.

"Guilty."

The victim's friends and family gasped and shouted, "Yes!" from the public gallery.

Ayres had been found guilty of the murder of 36-year-old Kelly Pearce.

In November 2015, Ayres had launched a ferocious hammer attack on her before

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

stabbing her in the face and neck 40 times.

If that wasn't bad enough, this was the second time the 49-year-old had been found guilty of murder.

Strangling

He knew what was coming – prison for the rest of his life.

In 1994 he was jailed for a minimum of 19 years for strangling his partner, Dawn Wisdom, to death.

Ayres was just 27 when he killed Dawn

after she told him she had aborted their unborn baby.

He saw red after she told him: "I got rid of it because it's yours."

Dawn's lifeless body was found by her devastated parents at her east London flat in September 1993.

Ayres claimed he was innocent but was convicted.

That wasn't the first time Ayres had been in trouble for violence against women. Five years earlier, he'd throttled his girlfriend to the point where she passed out.

Twelve months after that he strangled another girlfriend.

Ayres was released on licence in March 2012 after the end of his sentence for killing Dawn.

He lived at Felmores bail hostel, in Pitsea, Essex, before moving to Canvey Island to be closer to his family.

He got work as a gardener – a trade he learned in prison – but was soon unemployed due to flooding on the island.

Paranoid

So on November 19, 2015, he returned to his old trade – murder.

Kelly Pearce's death happened at the home of a drug user and paranoid schizophrenic called Joseph Withers.

During Ayres' two-week trial, the court heard that Withers was locked out of his flat in Fairlop Avenue, Canvey, by Ayres, who then launched the frenzied attack on Kelly in the bathroom.

FIRST KILL: Dawn Wisdom was strangled to death by Ayres, at the time aged 27 going to hand himself in anyway after a friend living in Basildon told him police were searching for him.

Wounds

He was wearing a blood-stained jumper and jeans. He also had cuts to his hands, thought to be knife wounds.

During the trial that followed, Ayres tried to claim that he hadn't

CRIME SCENE: Flat where Kelly Pearce met her violent death

IN FRIDAY'S

BRUTAL: Ayres attacked pretty Kelly Pearce with a hammer before stabbing her 40 times killed Kelly and sought to pin the blame on Withers.

Ayres told the court that he stumbled across Kelly, who was seriously injured, and held her as she drew her final breaths.

Giving evidence, he told the jury the brutal attack was carried out before he turned up at the flat where Withers lived.

According to defence barrister Oliver Saxby, Withers had a motive to kill Kelly because she claimed he had raped her.

Mr Saxby said: "If Anthony Ayres is not the killer then a prime suspect would be the other person in the house – a paranoid schizophrenic."

Withers had suffered psychotic episodes, which were exacerbated when he took drugs, and had previously threatened to use a knife.

But the jury saw Ayres' lies for what they were and found him guilty.

During sentencing, Justice Maura McGowan told Ayres she had no choice but to jail him for life.

Addressing him, she said: "Less than three years after you were released from prison you killed Kelly Pearce."

"You took a knife and a hammer to the flat where you knew she was."

"You then set about an attack of extraordinary brutality which, in my view, amounted to sadism."

"Kelly's addiction to hard drugs had blighted her life in recent years."

"But all the witnesses we have heard from said she was fun and kind. She had a big heart as well as a warm and open personality."

Lessons

"All that has gone. Her son grows up without a mother."

"The only sentence I can pass in accordance with the law is a whole life sentence."

Evil Ayres showed no emotion as he was led from the dock and into the cells.

As is usual in these cases, the authorities wrung their hands and parroted "lessons must be learned".

Essex's police and crime commissioner, Roger Hirst, said work had to be done to prevent convicted murderers from offending again after their release from prison in the wake of Ayres' guilty verdict.

He said: "As disclosed during the trial, Anthony Ayres had a history of acts of extreme violence."

"When he was previously found guilty of murder in 1994, it was reported that the judge described him as representing a 'serious danger to all women'."

"His subsequent murder of Kelly Pearce in 2015 has highlighted the risks of releasing serious offenders on licence and of the challenges of properly monitoring them in the community."

"It is essential that all relevant agencies, including the probation services, the police, local authorities and the NHS, work closely to prevent such tragedies from happening."

"Crucially, we need to understand why the monitoring arrangements put in place in this case were ineffective."

"A review of these procedures is needed. I extend my heartfelt condolences to Kelly's family."

Cowardly

After the jury found Ayres guilty of murder, prosecutor Cairns Nelson read out a statement from Kelly's mother, Lynn Wallings.

In it, she said: "On November 19, 2015, Kelly was cowardly and brutally murdered at the hands of Anthony Ayres."

"On that day my life, and that of her family, was shattered forever."

"Since her death I have found it difficult to smile or laugh or live with any sense of happiness."

"Part of my heart and my life was also taken when Kelly died."

Lynn said that she now has nightmares and suffers from anxiety.

Kelly also left behind her stepdad, Richard, who had brought her up since she was 15, as well as her sister, Lisa, and only son, Josh.

Lynn added: "Kelly loved Josh dearly. She always referred to him as her 'pride and joy'."

"Kelly was such a colourful person. She was beautiful, kind and caring."

"She was big-hearted, always finding the time for others despite struggling with her own mental health issues."

"She had her problems and her addictions and demons, but deep down she was a very loving human."

For the rest of her life, Lynn Wallings will wonder why Anthony Ayres – a man who, let's not forget, was described at his first murder trial as "a serious danger to all women" – was freed to kill again.

GIRL KILLED GRANDAD & HID BODY IN A TOOLBOX

She wanted his house, cops say

GAVE DRUGS: Webb

A WOMAN allegedly killed her grandfather with a drug overdose and hid his body in a toolbox because she "wanted his lake house".

Candy Jo Webb, 27, from New Mexico, has been arrested and charged with the murder of 83-year-old AJ Harden.

Lieutenant Mark Soriano wrote in a press release: "Through an extensive investigation, State Police agents were able to identify a suspect in Mr. Harden's murder."

Agents discovered Webb "gave Xanax and Ambien" to her grandad before he died.

She kept his body hidden in a tool chest – which she later drove to 1976 Shenandoah Drive in Fort Sumner to discard, the New Mexico State Police stated.

Fled

A murder probe began after human remains were found in a Ranch Supply tool chest on October 15.

After the victim's body was identified on a property near his home, an arrest warrant was issued for Webb on October 28 on charges of first degree murder and tampering with evidence, police said.

Harden's body was found with duct tape over his mouth and wrapped in blankets.

It wasn't until November 5 that US Marshals found Webb in Jacksonville, Florida.

According to New Mexico State Police agents, Webb fled her home state to avoid getting caught.

Webb is set to appear in court on December 4.

Investigators suspect Webb's alleged motive was to acquire Harden's lake house.

Robyn Abeyta, who lived at the property where Harden's body was found in the back yard, said: "Even before they identified the body, she was panicking and she called me."

"But I wouldn't have suspected it to be her."

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Like it or not...this ain't over yet!

DODDERY AND DODGY: Biden (above) and Trump

REMEMBER going to the fair in the days when it was scarily dangerous, with the nuts and bolts of rides looking like they were about to fly off?

When the thoroughly unwashed guy running the Waltzer looked as though he was probably on the run from the cops, too?

And when young teenage men still unable to gain entry into licensed premises would tussle for female attention by smashing the shit out of the Test Your Strength machine?

The past few days have been just like that – the DING, DING, DING of the bell being hit after contestant after sweaty contestant queued up to swing the hammer.

But the noise wasn't coming from a fairground, though.

No, it was – as ever – on social media, where the US Presidential election result has also resulted in a display of galactic virtue signalling.

And yes, yes, and thrice yes – I get it, I really do.

Rabid

You're over the moon to see the back of Donald Trump – and boy do you want to tell the world.

I'm pleased the big, mad, orange balloon has gone, too – but what I haven't done is lit up my social media accounts to crow about it.

And one of the two reasons I'm not crowing about it is because it is absolutely NOTHING to do with me.

I've had to watch otherwise sensible UK friends turn into rabid fanatics, who – because they once posted something along the lines of "Trump out!" on their Insta – somehow think they helped bring about the result.

No, you didn't, you cretin. You merely expressed an opinion that was liked a few times by your over-excitable nine followers.

Now you're acting as though your astute political weathervane is as attuned to the prevailing wind as an ant's antennae – as though you're the ONLY one who had noticed Trump was a knobhead.

But in between your furious bouts of celebrating your new-found bellwether expertise, you've missed something.

Which is the second reason I won't crow about the US election.

Joe Biden is merely a dodderly old man with questionable views and dodgy behaviour replacing another dodderly old man with questionable views and dodgy behaviour.

Whether one of them is in the White House or not, they are both unreconstructed old fools.

It's just that one of them, the incoming Prezza Biden, tries his best to pretend not to be – when he remembers to, anyway.

I'm also amused, but not surprised, by those on their Facebook and Twitter feeds going absolutely apeshit at Trump's attempts to overturn the decision in the US Supreme Court.

These are, by and large, the same people who WERE turned on by attempts to overturn the legitimate, legal Brexit vote in, er, the UK Supreme Court.

The people who are so permanently convinced they are right about everything that it MUST be the Russians, or fraud, or illicit money that swayed the vote – and never, of course, that a majority of people simply disagreed with them.

The real question should be wondering how on earth the biggest economy and firepower on the planet ended up with just these two dying duffers squaring up to each other over a mere suitcase full of nuclear codes.

Greatest country on earth? Don't make me laugh.

Like it or not, this ain't over yet. Pass the candy floss.

Dancer fatally shoots abusive hubby in back

AN EX-professional ballerina was arrested for fatally shooting her estranged husband amid a bitter custody battle over their daughter.

Ashley Benefield, 28 (above), allegedly opened fire while her 58-year-old hubby Doug had his back to her, inside a house in the gated community of Lakewood Ranch, Florida.

The former dancer claimed her husband attacked her before she shot him, but cops found no sign she had been physically abused or that she was acting in self-defence, the Manatee County Sheriff's Office said.

The couple had been separated and Ashley was staying with her mother.

Doug, who lived elsewhere, showed up to the home that night, and the two of them were the only ones inside when the shooting took place, deputies said.

Ashley has been charged with murder and is being held, pending a court date.

Chernobyl set to be 'magnet for tourism'

THE UKRAINIAN culture minister plans to boost the state's economy – by turning the Chernobyl accident site into a "tourism magnet".

Oleksandr Tkachenko is seeking UNESCO world heritage site status for the Chernobyl Exclusion Zone – a large expanse initially established by the Soviet armed forces after the 1986 nuclear disaster.

Tourism is already part of the zone, but a heritage site designation could turn the site into what's being marketed as a Pompeii of the atomic age.

It would join such locations as India's Taj Mahal, Australia's Great Barrier Reef and the UK's prehistoric Stonehenge.

Tourists would not only be able to explore eerie ghost towns like Pripyat, but also experience the wildlife "paradise" that has bloomed since a reactor exploded.

FINALLY...SOMEONE WORTH YOUR VOTE!

Topless Reese hints she may go into politics

WINNERS AND LOSERS: US President elect Joe Biden and defeated Donald Trump

NAKED ROLES: Babe loves to flash the flesh on screen

HAD enough of American politics?

The slug-fest between Joe Biden and Donald Trump has been a pretty uninspiring brawl – especially as we've got our own problems to deal with.

By COLIN HURST

nnews@sundaysport.co.uk

But Yank politics may be about to get a LOT more interesting as Hollywood babe Reese Witherspoon has suggested she may make a bid to become President of the United States!

The Oscar-winning actress, producer and activist revealed that she hasn't ruled out the possibility of expanding her empire into the political world someday.

Ignited

During an appearance on the SmartLess podcast, her pal Jason Bateman ignited the conversation by noting that he believed she'd "get a lot of the vote".

And little wonder because during her time on screen, the 44-year-old actress has got her boobs out in the movies Twilight and Wild.

Mum-of-three Reese joked: "Yeah, I mean our standards have become very low in this country."

The show's hosts Bateman, Will Arnett and Sean Hayes, said they could see her making a difference in the United States Senate.

The Big Little Lies star continued: "I wouldn't say never, because I don't know where I'm going to be when I'm, you know, about 65."

"I think we need better representation and balance."

"Women are 50 per cent of the population, but we're not 50 per cent of the representation in government, which is bizarre, particularly when they're adjudicating over our bodies."

In August, the actress opened up about her childhood dream of becoming the first female president in the United States, after Kamala Harris was called as former Vice President Joe Biden's running mate.

She shared: "Woke up this morning thinking about a moment from my childhood."

"In the 3rd grade, our teacher asked us what we wanted to be when we grew up, I raised my hand and said, 'I want to be the first female President of the United States of America'."

SET TO GET A LOT OF THE VOTE: Reese

Dear Sam,

But I'm actually looking forward to listening to them at it again. Do you think I'm weird?

MT. Cardiff

MAYBE not weird, but certainly a bit odd.

Dear Sam,

Or, indeed, if God will strike me down.

DC, Hertz

Sam says...

I'D say your prayers if this ever gets out.

Threesome with my missus

Dear Sam,

What do you think?

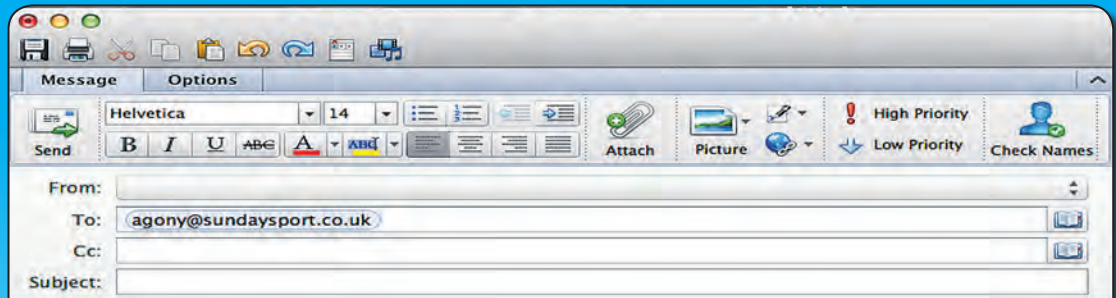

HK. Devon.

Sam says...

BE careful – you could get pushed out of your bed and out of your house.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Holiday romp with 3 babes was Kraut of this world

Dear Sam,

MY missus was having a rough time at work, so to cheer her up I took her on holiday to Tenerife for some sun.

We found ourselves in a lovely hotel but on the first morning down by the pool I was in agony – because of all the gorgeous topless crumpet around. I was particularly taken by three German students on a girlie holiday together. They were all tall, slim and blonde – and every time I looked at them I got a raging hard-on.

Erection

I was ogling the trio on my lounge with a paperback covering my stiffy when the book fell off my lap – revealing my erection.

One of the Germans was looking my way and she turned to her pals and said something and they all giggled.

Shyly, I glanced back over at them and I was surprised to see them beckoning me over.

I looked at my wife but her head was buried in a paperback, so I strolled to the edge of the pool and one girl whispered: "Room 323, 10 minutes."

I told the missus I was going back to our room for something. Nervously, I tapped on the door of Room 323 and it opened to reveal the three babes – all naked.

Without a word, one of them grabbed me by the dick and dragged me into the room.

She yanked down my shorts and squealed with joy as my nine-incher sprang free.

The babes then took it in turns to suck me off. In between times they snogged one another and fiddled and fingered each other's dripping slots.

Soon I was shagging each of them in turn while kissing and sucking the tits of the others.

I lost all track of time, but I didn't care as I pumped away to my heart's content.

The German girls were insatiable but eventually I was ready to shoot my wad and I pulled out quickly and sprayed waves of spunk over their faces.

I left them rolling on the bed, licking my cum off each other and continuing to bring each other to orgasm with tongues and fingers.

I hurried to our room for a quick shower before returning to the pool, more than a bit nervous about what my wife's reaction would be.

She looked up from her book and said: "What took you so long?"

I replied with a laugh: "I got waylaid by three German nymphos who treated me to an orgy."

"Yeah, right, I'm sure you enjoyed every minute of it," she said, turning back to her novel.

Do you think she'll suspect anything?

GB, north London

Sam says...

NO. She obviously doesn't think you'd have it in you.

Dear Sam,

MY missus is 45 but she's got the body of a 25-year-old and is always willing to experiment in the bedroom.

And that leads me to my problem. I came home from work a couple of weeks ago and she called me upstairs.

I got a real shock when I walked in the bedroom to find her dressed as Cheryl Cole, complete with brown wavy wig, dark eye make-up, a pink mini dress and thigh-high boots.

I was soon hard as she performed a raunchy dance routine and talked dirty in a Geordie accent.

Then she went down on me, working me to a frenzy with her tender tongue and luscious lips.

Then she lay back on the bed with just her boots on and her thighs spread wide, inviting me to get stuck in.

I eased my cock into her and gradually built up a rhythm until we both gasped to a shuddering climax.

Now she wants me to return the favour and dress as her fantasy man, Elvis.

But I can't stand the dead rock 'n' roller and know I couldn't get a hard-on, let alone screw her.

What should I do?

PB, East Yorks

Sam says...

GO on, do it just once, otherwise your missus will be Lonesome Tonight!

I broke down but got great ride off rescuer

Dear Sam,

My car broke down a couple of weeks ago, but seeing as I'm a busty blonde in my late 20s it didn't take long before someone stopped to offer their assistance.

He was in his early 40s and very fit. He told me there was something wrong with the radiator and kindly gave me a tow to a garage.

They told me they would need at least 24 hours to fix it and I was 100 miles from home, but my rescuer quickly offered to put me up.

I could tell what he was after – and I was in no mood to let him down either.

We wasted little time heading for his bedroom and after a brief kiss I sucked him off.

Licked

I took his rock-hard seven-incher right to the back of my throat and it only took five minutes before he filled my mouth.

He then spread my legs wide and licked me out before boning me from behind.

I was so turned-on that I even urged him to fk me up the arse as well.

The next day the car was fixed and I went home, but promised to stay in touch, although I thought that might be the last I'd see of him.

He has since texted me and said that he and his mate want to spit-roast me this weekend.

I'm tempted because sex with my husband is awful

What should I do?

MD, Weymouth

Sam says...

YOU seem to have a high sex drive, so why not?

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

#MY SEX FANTASY

'It's a very intimate thing to do – it feels so taboo'

MY fave thing to do in bed is bum fun – especially being fingered in the arse!

I must have loads of sensitive nerve endings there as it feels lush to be gently stroked!

And I also confess, I love to be rimmed – when a guy flicks his tongue across my bumhole... oh my, that's total heaven!

It's great foreplay for anal sex, too – then when you feel really nice and relaxed it feels amazing.

It's a very intimate thing to do, and it feels naughty and a bit taboo.

I would only do it with someone I trust though – a boyfriend or regular lover.

It's so intense because it's such a delicate area – I feel completely filled up with bum love.

You need him to start gently and then build up the speed.

It feels submissive – that the guy has all this power, which is really kinky!

NAUGHTY Nicole Smith fancies herself as a bit of an exhibitionist but the recent chilly temperatures have forced her to come up with other plans.

The stunner, from Kent, loves bonking outdoors but the colder weather means she might have to wait until summer for some more saucy shagging sessions.

Nicole, 25, said: "I love the thrill of outdoor romps - knowing someone could catch us in the act really turns me on."

Naked

"It's getting colder now though and my 36C boobs can't handle the icy temperatures so I'll have to try some indoor action now."

"I once shagged a fella in a hot tub while it was snowing. We stripped naked and took a dip and things escalated pretty fast."

"I was soon bouncing up and down on his hard cock and the jets on my clit had me gushing in minutes."

"We more than made waves in there - maybe I'll have to revisit him!"

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Down on Abby this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

DANNI HARWOOD

PLUMBER Kelvin Watson says his pipe stands to attention every time he claps eyes on busty blonde Danni Harwood. Kelvin, 37, from Harrogate, requested a snap of 32-year-old Danni, from Neath, south Wales, with her perfectly rounded 32Fs on show.

He said: "Danni is every man's dream, surely! With those massive boobs and her gorgeous green eyes, she's just perfect."

"Everytime I sneak a glimpse at the Sport and she's inside it, my cock springs to life – it's amazing the effect she has on the little fella!"

LOLA TAYLOR

BUILDER Neil Sledding says his biggest crush is stunning cutie Lola Taylor.

Neil, 49, from Darlington, asked for a saucy snap of Lola, 23, from Harrow, north London.

He said: "I'm a huge fan of the Sport and Lola in particular, I've got all the lads on site fancying her."

"She's got a perfect pair of pert 32Bs which she isn't shy about whipping out!"

LUCY PINDER & MICHELLE MARSH

STUDENT Gareth Cooke couldn't decide his favourite girl...so asked for a pic of both of them!

Gareth, 21, studies at the University of Liverpool but has his sights firmly set on 35-year-old Lucy Pinder...or is it Oldham-lovely Michelle Marsh, also 35?

He said: "Help me out here, guys. I really can't decide if Lucy – from my home city of Winchester – or Michelle is my dream girl."

"Can you print a pic of both of them for me?"

Well we can go one better Gareth, here's a pic of them together!"

#HOT'N'HORNY

GIVEN her name, you'd think you would be able to guess STELLA Cox would be a fan of the lager of the same name...but you'd be wrong.

Because the beauty actually prefers CARLSBERG SPECIAL BREW!

But a fondness for tramp fuel is not Stella's only secret.

Horny

Stella loves giving her postman a real thrill and says she enjoys horny fellas WATCHING her pleasure herself. The Reading-born babe admitted she regularly gets her camera out for a kinky solo session and films it.

And when 26-year-old Stella's postie arrives, he often catches a good view of her 32D boobs.

She said: "I love sucking cock and fking."

"And the thought of being watched pleasuring myself is what gets me off the most."

"I love playing with myself in front of the camera, too."

But certain delivery drivers don't get a cheeky glimpse after one left a parcel of Stella's out in the rain.

Aaron: Boss gives Irons more steel

AARON Cresswell says boss David Moyes has made sure West Ham are no pushovers any more.

The Londoners have enjoyed a flying start to the season and sit just five points off the Premier League summit.

They have had some tough games already and landed a point against high-flying Tottenham and Manchester City during that run.

They battled for a 1-0 success against Fulham at the weekend and Cresswell says that's been a trademark of the Hammers this season.

And the full-back thinks the manager and No2 Stuart Pearce should take lots of credit for the surge up the table.

He added: "Both times the gaffer came in we were deep in a relegation battle."

"It is different for managers to come in at those times and he has kept us up twice."

"We've started this season and been excellent at the start of the season, it is working well and we've got the two-week gap now to build on it, work on what we're going to do against Sheffield United."

Moyes believes that being solid was the first thing he had to establish at the London Stadium.

The Scot said: "To avoid relegation from the position we were in was a big achievement and getting the results from a team who hadn't picked up that many points or wins."

"I think we are improving the mentality and the character of the players we've got at the moment. I think it says a lot about the players, it is a change.

STEELY: Moyes

"We are not going to try and be flaky to lose the game, we are going to stick at it and try to not lose."

"I hope we can keep winning like this. We got a point at Spurs, we could have lost three points on Saturday but the players have been really good."

"To go into the November break where we are after the games we have played has been a great credit to the players."

London rivals Spurs agree and think their draw with the Hammers gave them a kick up the backside.

Tottenham have since had a brief spell at the top of the table and are genuine title contenders.

Boss Jose Mourinho admitted: "We felt the pain against West Ham and since then strategically the team is behaving in a different way."

NOT HAPPY:

wants to play

DANES SAVE THEIR BACON

Covid forces stars to swerve internationals

DANISH players in the Premier League could have to quarantine if they play for their national side this week.

New Covid restrictions mean anyone coming into the UK from Denmark will have to isolate — and it appears to include elite sportsmen.

That's because of a new strain of the virus in the country linked to mink farms. It could also mean England have to call off their Nations League game against Iceland because they are playing in Denmark this weekend.

The government would not let the Iceland players into the country under current rules.

If they play the game in a neutral country, then the ENGLAND players will have to self-isolate when they come back home.

By PAUL THOMAS

The Danes are thinking of leaving out all their Premier League and Championship players — otherwise they will have to quarantine after playing friendlies against Sweden, Iceland and Belgium.

Pierre Hojberg, Kasper Schmeichel, Andreas Christensen, Jannik Vestergaard, Henrik Dalsgaard, Mathias Jensen and Jonas Lossi are all set to miss out.

Schmeichel is hoping the UK government will change their mind so he can play for the Danes.

The Leicester keeper said: "The politics of it is the government has made a decision for now. I hope they come to their senses and see we are very protected in a bubble. We get tested all the time and I hope to be able to participate in at least one, if not two, of the games."

Tottenham gaffer Jose Mourinho is trying to come up with a compromise so Hojberg can join up with his national team-mates and not have to self-isolate.

He said: "He obviously wants to play for his national team."

"Of course we want Pierre back and in condition to play and it looks like we have found a situation that protects us and the player and allows him to play one match."

"The situation is simple. The first match is a friendly against Sweden, he doesn't go."

"The second game is in the Nations League at home in Copenhagen, he is suspended because he got a yellow card against England so he is not going."

"The third game is Belgium against Denmark so he stays with us and works with us and goes to Belgium."

"He does what he wants and plays with the greatest pride for his national team and then he comes back. The situation fits everyone."

Sweden have decided not to pick their five British-based players for the Denmark game.

That includes Man United defender Victor Lindelof along with Newcastle's Emile Krafth and Everton No2 goalie Robin Olsen.

They are expected to join up with the squad in time for the other two games against Croatia and France.

MIKE FRANCIS

WITH ALL HIS BEST SPORTING BETS

Double up on form duo in US Masters

BIG PRICE:
Tyrrell Hatton

I'M coming out swinging with a couple of bets for the US Masters golf.

It's all teed up for a brilliant weekend in Augusta and it's great to have the Major on at all after it was shifted from its traditional spring slot.

The course will play a little differently as this time of year but it will still be a place where a solid short game is important.

Looking at the favourite Bryson DeChambeau, I'm not sure I fancy his chances at 8/1. That's pretty skinny for a player who relies on brute force and that's never been a big advantage at Augusta.

Even if the course plays longer than usual, you still need lots of finesse around the greens and I'm not certain the US Open winner has enough at this stage of his career.

We had the Tiger Woods fairytale last year but he's 40/1 this time around and that looks about right.

He has only played two events so far in this shortened season and been way off the pace each time.

Even one of the all-time greats will find it hard to land a Major off that preparation.

The man for my main bet is DUSTIN JOHNSON.

He missed a couple of weeks after testing positive for Covid but showed he was in rude health with a really good performance at the Houston Open last week. He finished second and would have won with a slightly better opening round as he shot 66, 66 and 65 to end the tournament.

TYRRELL AND DUSTIN CAN DO IT

That means he has two wins, three seconds and a sixth from his past six tournaments. That sort of form is hard to ignore.

His Masters record is solid with a second last year behind Tiger showing he can adapt his game to the course.

Quite a few bookies are going 9/1 and that looks fair for a player who has all the class you need.

He's my main fancy but the great thing about golf is you get plenty of good players at massive prices.

And let's follow one of the Brits who is heading to the States with a big each-way chance.

TYRRELL HATTON is available at 28/1 with William Hill who are paying nine places each-way. He's the same price with Paddy Power who are paying out right down to tenth.

The Englishman won the last tournament before the game was suspended in March and has come back in excellent form too.

He won the PGA Championship at Wentworth and has climbed into the world's top ten which takes some doing.

The reason why the bookies are being generous is his modest record at Augusta.

But it's common for younger players to need a few outings in the Masters to cope with the pressure and to get used to the course.

There are no crowds present this year. So even though the Masters is the more genteel of the Majors, you still got the odd moron shouting "get in the hole". They won't be there this time.

The reason Hatton appeals is his short game. He is really good around the greens and you need to be able to fight for every par with some of the sport's trickiest holes in action.

He was seventh in the Houston Open last time so comes here in good form.

At the prices he can give us a good each-way run for our money and could even add to Europe's Masters roll of honour that includes the likes of Seve, Nick Faldo and Bernhard Langer.

AUGUSTA EASY FOR BIG-HITTER BRYSON

GOLF: US MASTERS STARTS ON THURSDAY

BRYSON DeChambeau is the name on everyone's lips as the US Masters tees off on Thursday.

The Major is normally the first of the season but has been delayed due to the pandemic. And that has given more time for golf's incredible hulk to get even stronger.

DeChambeau doesn't worry too much about hitting the ball in a straight line — he just concentrates on hitting it miles.

That method brought him success at the US Open in September and the bookies make him their hot favourite to follow up this weekend.

The autumn weather has softened the fairways meaning long hitters will be at a major advantage.

DeChambeau's coach Mike Schy is confident that his man can come out on top again.

He said: "The course is going to be super soft, so Bryson carrying it 320, 330 yards is a ginormous advantage."

"When you look at Matthew Wolff, runner-up at the US Open, he was hitting it pretty far, but the fairways were hard and fast, whereas Bryson was carrying it 50 yards past him."

"The guy who can carry it the farthest will have a huge advantage."

Schy believes the Augusta course will be set up perfectly.

He is capable of hitting his drives a whopping 400 yards.

He added: "Bryson loves that place."

"It's one thing to say 'I love Augusta', it's another thing to say 'I love it so much I want to know every square inch of it'."

"That's how Bryson prepares for Augusta. He knows the greens extremely well, he knows the nuances of the golf course extremely well."

2019 WINNER: Woods

It's a place he loves entirely.

"I fully expect him to win a Masters sometime, if not more, because he is just made for that place and potentially more so now with the added length."

"Confidence translates to approach shots and certainly his putting and how he approaches the game. He is hitting it far and straight too."

"He has become a great putter, and in order to win at Augusta you have to be a great putter. He is a top-10 putter in the world right now, I would say probably number one."

SKRIN IN THE MONEY

Liverpool battle Spurs for £45m stopper

LIVERPOOL will take on Spurs in the race to sign Milan Skriniar.

The Inter centre-back has emerged as the Reds' No1 target when the transfer window opens in January.

Kop boss Jurgen Klopp is prepared to go head to head with Jose Mourinho who is also interested in the

By JOHN ANTHONY

25-year-old Slovakian who has been told he can leave the San Siro.

Tottenham also got him in the last window but weren't prepared to meet Inter's demands of around £45m.

With Liverpool now in the race there doesn't seem much chance of the Italians dropping their asking price enough for Daniel Levy's liking.

The champions are keen to bring in another good defender after losing Virgil Van Dijk for the season.

They have Joe Gomez and Joel Matip as a solid pairing while the Dutchman recovers from his knee injury.

But Matip is rarely able to play two games in a week and stand-in stopper Fabinho is also on the sidelines at the moment.

That shows how thin Liverpool's options are with only young players left and a long season ahead.

The Reds are prepared to stump up £45m and could get the deal done in time a quick January move.
